Special delivery from the North Pole

Hello down there!

Dear .....

(your name goes here)

I'm your Christmas elf and I've just arrived. The journey was long, the sleigh was bumpy and I may have eaten most of the snacks on the way, so please excuse the crumbs.

I'll be staying with you until it's time to fly home for Christmas. During the day I stay very still (it's harder than it looks), but at night I like to explore, try things out and occasionally make a tiny bit of mess. If you find something odd in the morning, it was probably me. Sorry. Not sorry.

I need a name. Pick one you like and write it below so I know when you're talking to me.

My name is

.....

Three things I'd love: a cosy spot to sit, a wave in the morning, and no touching please, because elf magic is a bit wobbly and I'd rather not lose it.

See you in the morning,

Your elf

P.S. I've brought my own suitcase. It's mostly biscuits.

