A LETTER FROM YOUR ELF

I met the baby!

Dear .....

Guess what? Last night I tiptoed in for a peek at the newest person in your house.

The baby is called .....

They are very small and very new, and they smell like warm towels. I didn't make a sound. Not one jingle.

Here's my plan for this Christmas: quiet mischief, spots up high and nothing that goes bang. And if you'd like a job, I could do with a Big Helper. Only if you fancy it.

Love from .....

P.S. Babies are the only people allowed to sleep through my best tricks.

A LETTER FROM YOUR ELF

I met your pet!

Dear .....

Last night I had a very important meeting with somebody with four paws. Or fins. Or feathers.

Their name is .....

We said hello politely. Well, they sniffed. I waved. I think we're friends now.

Just so you know, I'll sit up high this year, where curious noses and waggy tails can't reach me. If I'm ever on the floor in the morning, somebody furry took me for a ride.

Love from .....

P.S. Please tell them I am not a toy. I am a very important elf.

OFFICIAL ELF CERTIFICATE

Big Helper

This certificate goes to

.....

for brilliant helping, gentle hellos and the quietest tiptoes in the house this Christmas.

Signed .....

your elf